DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
Saturday Evening, March 10.

THE Ohio House of Representatives yesterday expanded from the record the resolutions passed last Friday, during the absence of a large number at Washington to witness the inauguration ceremonies, which declared that the election of President Hayes was accomplished by all manner of fraud and corruption known to politics.

MATILDA HERON, the actress, who for many years was famous as "Camille," died in New York Wednesday night. She was a native of Ireland, having come to this country when quite young, and made her debut as an actress in Philadelphia in 1851. She had a checkered career and was celebrated for her extravagance and eccentricities. Of late years she has supported herself by giving instructions in elocution and stage business. She was about fifty-five years of age.

THERE is a new tide of emigration to Florida, both from the north and from abroad. Prominent European capitalists have been negotiating for some time, and at last successfully, with the land commissioners of the state, for eight million dollars worth of orange lands. They intend to bring into the state two or three thousand hardy farmers from England, Germany, France and Italy. With that kind of population and plenty of free schools the supremacy of the republican party in Florida is assured.

BOTTOM FACTS.

The new Senator from Illinois found great difficulty yesterday in crowding his noble parts into the Senate chair, and after he had once become seated in one of them he found still greater difficulty in extricating said parts from confinement, they being held as in a vise. Every time he attempted to rise he carried the chair with him. The officers of the Senate were called into session caucused to see how the difficulty could be remedied, when Isaac Bassett, the veteran Sergeant-at-Arms, who has presided over 23 Senates, remembered that there was a chair in the attic which had been constructed for Senator Dixon Lewis, of Ala., who was as big a man as Judge Davis, and who sat in it from 1851 to 1857, while he was in the Senate. The chair was brought down this morning, and after accurate measurement was found to fit Judge Davis exactly. It was placed behind his desk, and he has been occupying it to-day. The seat of the chair was thirty-four inches in breadth and twenty-eight inches deep.

THE "SOLID SOUTH" CANNOT BE BROKEN.

Washington City, Philadelphia Times. Mr. Lamar says it is absurd to talk of dividing the Southern wing of the Democracy by the distribution of patronage. He thinks that a good many Democrats may get Federal positions, but says that very few of them will change their political faith. If any of them do they will at once lose all the following they ever had. Their apostasy will become apparent and they will become odious.

Mr. Reagan says that he would see his right arm wither at his side before he would go into Hayes' Cabinet, and he has no fear that the President can capture a corporal's guard of Democrats with all the offices at his disposal. Gen. Gordon says he would not take a place under Hayes, and would advise no friend to do so; but that he will recommend any application whose appointment would tend to elevate the civil service in the South. After the recognition of the Nicholls and Hampton governments, which he pronounces "as certain as the sun will rise," he thinks the reform of the Southern civil service the most important work before Hayes. When asked if he thought a judicious distribution of the patronage would demoralize the party, he laughed and said, "The South is just as certain to give a solid vote against the crime that was consummated yesterday as the day of election comes."

To sum up: Hundreds of Democratic applicants are before Hayes to-day, either in person or by letter. A numberless legion of the same sort are en route thitherward. They will apply for the smaller offices without stint, and will be persistent in their claims.

Of this whole number hardly a hundred will become converts to the Republican creed. Of those who do, not ten will be able to stand up against the storm their apostasy provokes. The improvement of the civil service in the South is certain. The disintegration of the Southern Democracy is a myth. The Southerners will take the offices and then proceed to hold the fort. Before the Solid South is broken the Republican party must be retired from power. Then it may fall to pieces of its own weight.

"Faith is the Christian's defence. Of things unseen by mortal eyes." Says a beautiful church hymn. Faith is not needed in the case of B. B. Babbitt's Best Soap, for the benefits directly to the senses, not merely to the eye but to the sense of touch, and by its powerful effects rejuvenates the whole man.

A LETTER FROM W. F. BUSHNER.

Concluded from yesterday.

We hired a small sail boat to take us near the bar; to look for some shells, and on our return stopped at the island to look at the stone quarries, we also ascended the new light house, one hundred and sixty-five feet high, built of brick, which looks to be about three feet six inches thick. The keeper, for a small consideration, showed us the revolving light and explained its workings. The sun was just setting, and gave us notice that it was time for us to return. The next day we paid a visit to old Fort Marion, and found it guarded by Indians, about twenty-five in number, and only two squaws in the party and several on that belonged to war-like tribes, and were captured by our troops and sent to this fort two years ago. One of them is now enough civilized to wear the U. S. uniform and stand guard. They do their own cooking. I have seen some of their bread and it looks as good as any I ever saw. They make bows and arrows and sell them to visitors. After scanning the old structure, we took a look at the city gate, the pillars and a short section are still standing. It is supposed that in olden times the city was surrounded by a wall. After staying in St. Augustine three days we took our departure for Jacksonville again. The state fair is in progress. The fair grounds are located about one mile from the city, a good road leading to it, and is near the St. Johns river. Three small steamers were plying continually plying between it and the city. The grounds are small and new, this being the second state fair ever held in this state. It has a half mile track, soft and sandy. I would think it tiresome for the horses, as racing was about the only attraction. I am told that some fast stock came from Georgia, but I did not see any fast racing. The display of stock was fearful, only one colt, and that nothing extra, one calf, two half breed Durham cows, that apparently had no care taken of them, and only in fair condition. Two tall blooded Berkshires with pigs, and one boar and one native sow. That constituted all the displays of stock. The display of chickens was good for this country. The judges' stand looked like a smoke-house on stilts. The small sum of 25 cents is charged for the privilege of resting yourself in the amphitheater. There is only one large building on the grounds, and that has to answer all purposes. There were oranges and lemons in great variety, and a large assortment of grapes, a species of lemons, from the size of an egg to as large as a man's head, and sweet potatoes larger than any two fists, strawberries, and many other kinds of vegetables, a little corn and oats and some specimens of air tight fruit, some honey and orange jam, a little dry goods, of which this place is not, completed the show; beside a few candy and soda water stands several exhibitors were advertised to draw a crowd. The attendance was about like our county fair or a good horse race, and was patronized principally by Northern people who are the backbone to everything in this state. Eastern capital does everything here; they have nothing to export except oranges, lemons and turpentine, a few cattle they ship to Cuba, all of which are small, poor draft stock imported, probably by Columbus; they are run down to nothing, and get their food from what they find in the woods, to judge from their appearance. A pit of milk twice a day is about all they give; chalk water sells for fifteen cents a quart. I am told that a farmer may have several cows and he won't have but two months milking a year, and never makes butter. Condensed milk, potatoes, beans, butter, smoked meat of all kinds, and fresh beef, supply the hotels here.

The huge raised hogs have long, sharp snouts, their sides like two clap boards placed on stilts, and so thin I could almost see through them. Venison is quite plenty, also bear, fish and other game. Vegetables grow much slower here than up north. Strawberries that were planted last November are just getting ripe, potatoes planted in December are now blooming. We have a few hours hot sun during the day, but the nights being cold the soil is not sufficiently warmed to make vegetation grow very fast. The soil is poor, but the seasons are long. I think gardening would pay well here if undertaken by men of some energy. Nearly all the permanent settlers from the North are consumptives. They make a living, and regain their health if they come early enough; but many a poor fellow waits until the disease has taken such a hold upon him that a change of climate is almost sure to hasten his death. I think the climate is good for the lungs, but hard on the liver. Chills and fever and mosquitoes are old settlers here; but a simple remedy for the chills is the native wild orange. I have tried it myself with good effect.

OFFICE SPECULATIONS.

Washington Special.

General Edward F. Noyes, of Ohio, will be tendered the mission to France, in the place of Mr. Washburne, who has just returned to the United States. He will undoubtedly accept. General Comly, editor of the Ohio State Journal, will be made United States Minister to the Hawaiian Islands provided his health enables him to take the journey. General Comly was in Washington a few weeks ago, and was called home on account of sickness in his family. Since that he has himself been dangerously ill, and one reason for this appointment is the hope that a residence at Honolulu will be beneficial to his health.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Alexander H. Stephens is again very ill and suffering much. The widow of the Boston forger, Winslow resides at Whitehall, New York, and supports herself with her needle.

Messrs. Evans, Sherman, McCrary, and Thompson all of Whig extraction, as also are President Hayes, and Vice President Wheeler.

It leaks out that Schurz's appointment was made by President Hayes of his own volition, and against the protests of many of his friends. No one endorsed the appointment.

Washington special: President Grant went walking to-day with a cane in his hand, a cigar in his mouth, and looked about him as if it was a new world in which he found himself.

Longfellow has just reached his seventieth year. Bryant is a hale and active man of eighty. Whitier is nearly seventy; Oliver Wendell Holmes is sixty-eight.

To Mr. McCrary belongs the credit of having taken the first step in the legislation which created the electoral tribunal. On December 7th last he introduced a resolution providing for a joint committee of the two houses to consider a mode of counting the electoral vote.

Mrs. Hayes gets from everybody the kindest mention. Even the Cleveland Plaindealer says: "Gov. Hayes has a modest, estimable, kind hearted woman for a wife; a lady who will adorn the white house into which her husband has been forced by a conspiracy of politicians."

Miss Fannie Hayes, the daughter of President Hayes, who will occupy a prominent place in Washington society for the next four years, is a very pretty brunette, and is nineteen years of age. She is very bright and intelligent, a good conversationalist, and will make a decided sensation in society.

Two men in Baltimore bet $1,000 on the result of the presidential election, and being unable to decide which had won, the case was taken into court, where the district attorney, under the law of the state, took possession of the stakes and turned the money over to the city treasury.

Mr. W. D. BICKHAM, of the Dayton Journal, an intimate personal friend of President Hayes, telegraphs as follows from Washington:

It is now understood that the President's Southern policy has been subjected to grave misconstruction by the personal interference of Messrs. Wm. M. Evans and Stanley Matthews in South Carolina affairs, without the President's knowledge. This interference may result in important developments, and, perhaps, in new complications.

WHY ADVERTISE.

People sometimes ask why Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., spends so much money in advertising his family medicines, which are so well known and surpass all other remedies in popularity and sale. It is well known that A. T. Stewart conducted a good policy, and undoubtedly it paid him to spend many hundred thousand dollars in advertising his goods, yet nobody questioned the excellence of his merchandise. The grand secret of success lies in offering only goods which possess merit to sustain themselves, and then through liberal and persistent advertising making the people thoroughly acquainted with the good qualities. He does not succeed in amazing great fortunes, establishing thriving and permanent business, and founding substantial institutions like Dr. Pierce's Grand Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, which costs over two hundred thousand, unless their business be legitimate, their goods meritorious, and their services which they render the people genuine and valuable. Dr. Pierce does not attempt to humbug you by telling you that his Golden Medical Discovery will cure all diseases. He says, "If your lungs are half wasted by consumption, my Discovery will not cure you, yet as a remedy for severe coughs, and all curable bronchitis, throat, and lung affections, I believe it to be unsurpassed as a remedy. The people have confidence in him, and he does not doubt over-recommend them. His Medical Adviser, a book of over 900 pages, and bound in cloth and gilt, is offered to the people at such a moderate price ($1.50, post paid) that it is no wonder that almost one hundred thousand have been sold. His memorandum book is an every day drugist's counter for free distribution.

St. Louis, March 9.—At Flora, Illinois, five men were arrested to-day for stealing goods from freight cars on the Ohio and Mississippi road. The men were traced to an old house south of the city, where they had purchased the stolen goods. In the house was found a large amount of stolen goods, also a complete outfit for making counterfeit notes, dimes, twenty cent pieces and half dollars. One of the men named Dan Ridge, has intimated a desire to turn state's evidence, and if the authorities will be easy with him, he will give the names of about thirty men who are members of the gang.

New Orleans, March 9.—Notwithstanding the telegraph order received yesterday from President Diaz, to send Gen. Cortina to the City of Mexico, the military court, last night, pronounced sentence of death on him. His counsel published a protest today, against the sentence, declaring it illegal, as it was pronounced ten hours after the receipt of the order of the chief executive of the nation, to transfer accused and proceedings in his case to the capital. Cortina's organ declared to-day, that the pretence of sending him to the City of Mexico, is merely to have an opportunity to shoot him on the way, under plea that he attempted to escape.

Chicago, March 9.—The second trial of Alexander Sullivan for the murder of Francis Hanford, terminated to-day, and the jury, at 11 o'clock to-night, after a brief deliberation, brought in a verdict of acquittal, and Sullivan was discharged from custody.

The Cabinet Appointments to Come Up To-Day.

Probabilities as to Confirmation.

An Unlucky Story about South Carolina and Louisiana.

WHAT SIMON CAMERON SAYS.

Acquittal of Sullivan.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The new cabinet will be reported to the senate to-morrow by the various standing committees to which they referred to-day, and there is little or no doubt but that all but one will be confirmed to-morrow or Monday. When reported to-morrow, a single objection will carry them over until Monday, but on the latter day the senate can be brought to a vote upon them. When the senate went into executive session this afternoon, the opponents of the cabinet, under the leadership of Mr. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, made an effort to adjourn until Monday. Mr. Sargent and others objected to this, on the ground that the committee would have ample time to meet this afternoon, and then report to-morrow. His proposition to adjourn until to-morrow was then carried. Senator Beck and others declare that they will not be parties to any filibustering to defeat the cabinet. The nomination of Schurz was referred to the finance committee, and on taking a vote it was found that the committee was in favor of reporting the nomination forthwith, and it was determined to submit it to-morrow. The postal committee had quite a discussion over the nomination of Senator Key, some of the republicans being opposed to him on account of his being a democrat, but at the same time they thought that the president ought to choose his cabinet as a general chooses his staff. They therefore unanimously voted to report Key's name for confirmation. The judiciary committee agreed to report Devins for attorney general, the naval committee Thompson for secretary of the navy, and military affairs McCrary for secretary of war, all unanimously. The committee on foreign relations, which had the nomination of Evans for secretary of state, had a less favorable session than any of the others. Both Cameron and Conkling opposed the nomination, and it was found impossible to come to any agreement to report it back to-morrow morning. They will hold another meeting, and probably agree to report it to the senate without any recommendation. Were it not for the votes of the democrats Mr. Schurz would not be confirmed; but all but ten of them have decided to make no coalition with Mr. Cameron, and he will therefore be confirmed.

It is stated to-night in the highest republican quarters that before taking final action on the matter of the withdrawal of the Federal forces from Columbia and New Orleans, and prohibiting their further use at those points except to sustain the state officials in preserving the peace, the President has decided to give Messrs. Chamberlain and Packard an opportunity to voluntarily retire from the positions which they can not possibly maintain. Unmistakable intimations have been conveyed to both these gentlemen of the President's purposes. If, after a reasonable lapse of time, it is found that they are determined to attempt to maintain their positions, orders will be issued to Gen. Ruger and Angur directing them to withdraw the federal troops in the department of the south and the gulf to the military reservation, thus leaving it to the people of South Carolina and Louisiana to decide for themselves which of the dual governments they will sustain.

Gen. Butler is a daily visitor to the Senate, evidently studying the bearings of the situation, with a view probably to his future course in the House. It is understood that President Hayes has decided to call an extra session of both houses of Congress May 15.

Mr. Key has already received numerous letters from people in the South asking for appointments to office. A Methodist minister of Tennessee writes to say that he thinks a great many of Grant's appointees have been in long enough, and ought to be willing to retire. He says he would like something good; don't care about a post office, but thinks a trip abroad would be pleasant and beneficial. He closes by saying, I would prefer one of the following consulates: Liverpool, London, Rio Janeiro or Jerusalem.

Simon Cameron don't say much, but what he does say is said. A friend asked him if he did not think it an extraordinary thing to refer the Cabinet slate to committees. The wary politician bit his lips, and with a twist of the head, said:

"Yes, sir. Yes, sir; a very extraordinary thing, but this promises to be quite an extraordinary administration."

"What do you think of the situation?" queried a brother Senator. "For a moment the Winnebago Chief looked down. "Think?" said he; "I think it's a hell of a time."

These who are near the President report to-day that he contemplates no changes in the personnel of the minor offices of the Government, except where he is assured that such change will increase efficiency. It is further stated that there will be numerous changes in foreign missions, and a few in the consular service. In the Department of Justice the United States Marshals in the South are to be thoroughly overhauled. This will form a part of the President's Southern policy. It is also reported that he intends to request Mr. Secretary Schurz to enter upon a full investigation in the Interior Department, especially of the Indian Bureau and Patent Office Kings.

Secretary Sherman to-day forwarded to the Governor of Ohio his resignation as United States Senator from that State, to take effect immediately. He was busily engaged to-day in arranging the papers and closing up his affairs as Chairman of the Finance Committee. Owing to the continued illness of Secretary Morrill it is his intention to assume charge of the Treasury Department to-morrow. One of the first subjects which will receive his attention will be the internal affairs of the Department.

Sherman's experience at the head of the Ways and Means and Finance Committees for so many years, has given him unusual facilities for obtaining a full knowledge of the detailed workings of the department. He has said nothing, as yet, about any particular financial policy, but his record is well known to be in favor of hard money and early resumption.

Boston, March 9.—A fire broke out this morning in Prince William street, St. John, New Brunswick, in Wm. C. Barbour's dry goods store, and before it could be controlled destroyed the dry goods establishments of J. H. Golden, Beard & Vining, and Watts & Turner; also, Barbee's wholesale hardware store; Kerr & Thorpe, retail hardware store; Sleeves Bros., wholesale dry goods. Loss on stock and buildings, $500,000; not more than half insured. The wall of Watts & Turner's building fell in, burying Watts and several others beneath the ruins. It is supposed that eight or ten bodies were buried beneath the debris.

An explanation has been given, and if correct, throws the responsibility on to John H. Golden, and makes him responsible for the great destruction of property, and loss of life.

It is said the fire had been entirely extinguished in Barbour's cellar, so that two or three firemen had traversed it from end to end, and that all danger from that quarter was over. The firemen, however, came to the conclusion that there was a fire in Golden's cellar, and sought to enter the building, but he persistently refused them admission, and only allowed them to enter the store when it was too late to extinguish the flames, they having gained fearful headway in the half hour lost by his obstinacy.

Have you got your seats for Beecher's lecture?
Slippery walks admonish people to step with caution.
The city officials elect are getting municipals ready for the next meeting of the council.
Trade is brisk to-day and merchants are happy.
Several of our commercial men are in the East buying their spring goods.
We have noticed several wagons going about town to-day on the wheels of which snow and mud had accumulated so that they were solid from hub to rim, and not a single spoke could be seen.
An exchange says that Jacksonville has commenced to kill off its dogs, and prays that the blessings of civilization may extend over the country generally.
Some of our citizens, who have peach trees on their premises, say that the buds are killed, and we presume this may be the case generally in this part of the State.
The work on streets and sidewalks is in statu quo, on account of the snow, and will have to remain so for a week at least, but as the good weather in February got the work well under way and good progress was made, the people will be patient with a little delay. As soon as the weather will allow operations will be resumed.

An exchange says "As usual, about this time of year, young men are beginning to flock into the city from the country. The movement should be in the other direction." Let the young men in these parts who are out of employment make a note of this and govern themselves accordingly.
Aware of the approach of Easter, hens and housewives are conspiring to get up a corner on eggs. They have already succeeded in advancing the price to fifteen cents, and a strong effort will be made to carry them up to twenty-five. We hope consumers will be on the alert, and devise means to avert so fearful a calamity.

Do not fail, at every opportunity, to call the attention of persons of capital outside of our city to our advantages as a manufacturing city. Let's all make an extra effort this year to induce capital to come to our city and engage in manufacturing enterprise. Much can be done by the efforts of all.

We learn from exchanges that companies of young men in various localities are organizing expeditions for the Black Hills, but here there is no particular ambition in that direction. Those who have been there from this vicinity and "know how it is themselves," give no very flattering account of the country, and their personal hardships, while there, were not such as to awaken any particular enthusiasm in their minds in favor of the land of gold.

The aversion of the lordly tramp to any form of manual labor receives fresh proof almost daily. An ordinary able-bodied tramp will work harder, suffer greater privations and expend more brain force in an effort to beat somebody out of a nickel, than would be required of him to earn an honest living for a week.

The fishermen of Decatur are "down in the mouth" over the destruction of fish in the Sangamon river, but they may console themselves with the idea that the destruction is confined to the varieties that are usually caught in seines. The "game fish," so called, do not seem to have suffered, but only those which suck their food, and are seldom taken with the hook.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.
The matter of public improvement is likely to receive more attention in the city the present year than in any other year of its history. A number of citizens are moving in the matter of graveling the street on which they live, and also in the direction of other improvements that will greatly help the appearance of the city. The setting of shade trees along North Main Street, is a very excellent move on the part of those residing on that thoroughfare, and the example set by them will be quite likely to be followed by those living on other streets. We happen to know, also, that an unusual number of our citizens intend to improve their private grounds by setting out additional shrubs, laying new walks, and in various other ways.

There is also to be a liberal use of paint, and a general overhauling of buildings, which will go far to improve the general appearance of the city.
The city council will also be disposed to a liberal policy in the matter, and will second all these endeavors to give the city a fine appearance, by as large appropriations for street and other improvements as the state of the city finances will permit.
With this co-operation between citizens and the council, we may look for a general brushing up, which will by midsummer place Decatur in the front rank of the cities of central Illinois, in the matter of attractiveness of appearance. Let the good work go on.

Legislative Excursion to Champaign.
—We had the following in the Springfield Journal of to-day, which explains itself: Yesterday both Houses of the Legislature, the State officers and a large number of leading citizens of Springfield received an invitation from the Regent of the Champaign University to attend the anniversary exercises of that institution to-day. The invitation was accepted, and on visitors will leave on the T. W. & W. at eight o'clock this morning on a special free train, provided for them by the ladies and gentlemen of Champaign. They will dine at Champaign and return at 10 o'clock this evening.
The special train, consisting of three coaches and one baggage car, bearing the legislative wisdom of the state, passed through this city about ten o'clock this forenoon. They are expected to pass here on their return trip about eight o'clock this evening.

More Bulldozing. — Last evening, about eight o'clock, a bulldozed young man fell in the snow just south of the court-house on State street, and would doubtless have frozen had not a passerby helped him to his feet and steadied him along to the corner of Wood street.
He told his assistant that he could navigate his own craft, and had no doubt that he would get safely into port. He headed eastward, and reeled along in a zigzag way, but managed to keep on his pins while in sight, and probably made his domicile without another tumble.
He was quite well dressed; and for a man as drunk as he seemed to be, he could talk pretty straight.

Prof. Tice. — Only a small audience was present to listen to Prof. Tice last evening. On account of some misunderstanding about the use of the court house, the lecture was given in the hall over Liddle's store. Those in attendance were well pleased with the lecture, and were amply repaid for their time and trouble.

Degree Meeting To-night. — All degree members and those having applied for the second or third degrees, are requested to appear in Good Templar's hall this evening at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired, as there will be several initiations besides other important business connected with the order.

D. M. Barnett desires the public to understand that he can sell good groceries as cheap for cash as any house in town, and he delivers goods in any part of the city without extra charge.

Sociable Last Night. — The Good Templars' Sociable was largely attended last evening, and an exceedingly pleasant time was enjoyed. The various modes of entertaining the company were admirably carried out, and all present enjoyed the occasion in the highest degree.

David L. Hughes, Esq., is to-day announced as a candidate for re-election as a member of the board of supervisors.
Mr. Hughes has served several terms in the board, and is thoroughly posted with reference to the business of the county.
The snow storm, which has been plenty heavy enough here to satisfy the most ardent admirer of snow storms, was much heavier both east and west of us than it was here. At Quincy fully six inches fell, and further up the Mississippi river nearly a foot in depth was reached. So far as this locality is concerned, the people generally have no desire for any higher distinction than four or five inches of snow.

We learn of several cases of lung fever in the city, and our people will do well to bear in mind that the sloppy walking, which we must have for the next week, will be well calculated to foster the complaint. They should, therefore, provide themselves with good overshoes, and thus avoid dampening their feet. It will be well to keep a sharp look-out for the little folks also, otherwise they will be down with croup or scarlet fever.

A WISH FOR SPRING.
BY JAMES REID DILL.
O, that the Spring were here,—the gentle Spring, — Once more to paint the heavens with mellow hue,
And softly spill the sun, as spills the dew;
At, o'er mead and vale and hill, to bring To my awning tread, the carpeting Of velvet-tufted verdure, woven thro' With web of sweetest flowers of varied hue;
O, but to feel the soft wind blowing Avoid my tresses low—to hear again, The wild-bird's strain float from the unfolding spray;
Or watch the unbound brooklet wind its shore,
With liden of tinkling song,—that I may then Strail where in springs of yore with me did stray
A maid to memory dear, who lives no more!

PROMINENT evils in life always provoke the consideration of their cures and contraries. No good man but is impelled instinctively to strive for the bettering of things. One sees no end of evil and misfortune, and no less of physical dirt and personal carelessness.
It is well, then to think of an agent so potent as B. T. Babbit's Toilet Soap, which, which nothing better can be made by the chemist for toilet purposes and the bath room. The sweetest and purest oils are exclusively used in its preparation, and it acts on the skin like a charm.

Don't be Humbled.—There are parties making the rounds through the city now—now as there are every year about this time when gas bills have been very high—putting in patent burners at 50 cents each, or $5.00 per dozen, by telling people that they would save 30 to 35 per cent. of gas, which is not so. The undersigned have the same burners, and have had them for a year, and all we ever charged to put them on was 35 cts., or $3.50 per dozen. We have also a much better burner, which is made only of brass and copper, instead of iron; consequently it cannot corrode, and can be regulated by anybody to burn as much or little gas as is wanted, which we sell at the same price.

Good Advice.
Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, etc. Every family should have a bottle of BOSCHER'S GER-MAN SYRUP. Don't allow for one moment that cough to take hold of your child, your family or yourself. Consumption, Asthma, Pneumonia, Croup, Hemorrhages, and other fatal diseases may set in. Although it is true GER-MAN SYRUP is curing thousands of those dreaded diseases, yet it is much better to have it at hand when three doses will cure you. One bottle will last you whole family a winter and keep you safe from danger. If you are consumptive, do not rest until you have tried this remedy. Sample bottles 10 cents.
Regular size 75 cents. Sold by your
